ANNUAL PROCUREMENT PLAN 2009-2010

Bureau of Meteorology Strategic Procurement Outlook

The Bureau is an Executive Agency of the Australian Government and contributes to national, social, economic, cultural and environmental goals by providing critical weather, climate, hydrological and oceanographic services and by undertaking research into science and environment-related issues in support of its operations and services.

This plan, prepared annually, gives advanced notice of contract opportunities to industry of the Bureau's likely requirements in 2009-2010.

Priorities of the Bureau's procurement program in 2009-10 include: the procurement of water accounting systems, and related IT systems for storage of and web-access to water information; construction projects at various sites in Western Australia, South Australia, Queensland and New South Wales; and installation and replacement of new and enhanced weather radars.

The Annual Procurement Plan for the Bureau of Meteorology for the 2009-10 financial year was updated on 10 August 2008 (version 2). Planned procurements that have been added are identified by red type. Changes to an existing planned procurement are identified by blue type.
